

Study Furniture for the Future

Many new homes are now being established, both in town and country, and they will need to be properly furnished or outfitted. A good many other homes will simply need "fixing up." In either case, this store, equipped as it is with all kinds of good furniture ready for duty, will be of great help in bringing your plans to a realization.

The newest furniture the market affords is here, while new goods are daily arriving, and we're saving money for everybody who spends a dollar with us.

Lindol R. Waterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Waterman of Washington street, is one of the late registrants for selective military service, although his tardiness in no way connects him with the classification of "slacker." Mr. Waterman was teaching at Stanstead college, Stanstead, P. Q., on June 5, when all men between 21 and 31 were required to register. Recently he returned to Barre for the summer, and in obedience to the rules adopted to regulate the registration of Americans temporarily residing in Canada within five days after his arrival he has applied for and received a registration card as a result of a conference with County Clerk L. C. Moody at the capital.

TALK OF THE TOWN

See Abbott's line of white wash skirts. William Emalie and Alex. Hanton left last night for Boston, where they will pass a few days on business.

George L. Mead of New York, who formerly maintained a retail granite office in this city, is passing several days at Hotel Barre while here on business connected with the granite industry.

Barre Masons are interested in preliminary efforts to form a local council of royal and select Masons, a dispensation having been granted by the state council whereby Barre members of the Montpelier council may secure their permits in order to associate with the proposed Barre organization. For some years the matter of agitating a royal and select council has been agitated hereabouts, and several times the formal steps were about to be taken. It is anticipated that a very large number of Masons, any of whom have taken the first three degrees, will affiliate with a local council, and upward of 150 men who belong to the Montpelier council now will form a nucleus for the new organization.

Rounds of Park street returned yesterday from Worcester, Mass., where with Mrs. Rounds and daughter, Dorothy, he attended the wedding of Miss Charlotte Vaughan and Gordon Poole, eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Poole, formerly of Barre, who were married in the Union Congregational church Saturday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Munroe, who has been visiting her brother, Walter Munroe, in this city and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Munroe, in Worcester since completing her duties in the insurance office of Cutting & Cutting in Barton, will leave the city within a few days for Washington, D. C., where she has secured a position as a stenographer in the offices of the war department.

Private Kenneth H. Gale, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gale of Wellington street, who recently enlisted in the Headquarters company of the 1st Vermont regiment, left this morning for Fort Ethan Allen, Mr. Gale, who has been an active member of Carroll's orchestra for some years, has been assigned to the regimental band, having played with the military musicians for the first time on the occasion of their visit in Barre last week. He is the second member of the orchestra to enlist. Private Henry Carroll having enlisted in C Co. some weeks ago.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Greenwood of Chester, J. Irving Wood of Burlington, C. G. Clifford of Bethel, W. R. Skinner of Royalton, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Casey of Syracuse, N. Y., F. M. Meldron and E. A. Colburn of Burlington, J. Lemuel Boynton of Syracuse, N. Y., H. Maundy of St. Johnsbury, R. E. Dodge of Claremont, N. H., H. H. Knapp of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Darling of Warren, Pa., E. G. Darling of Albany, Russell E. Hill of Boston, Miss Ruth M. Miner of Albany.

Sec. H. P. Hinman of the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association states that the decision of the Barre manufacturers not to exhibit at Philadelphia in August does not mean that the convention of national monument retailers is to be abandoned. Barre producers have been forced to cancel space reserved on the exhibition floor because of the freight conditions. The convention undoubtedly will be held regardless of the exhibition feature, as the exhibit is regarded merely as a sideline to which the real purpose of the retailers' gathering is not subordinated. Thousands of dollars were to have been expended by Barre manufacturers and quarrymen in exhibiting the native stone, but to-day it was stated that every exhibitor had canceled his reservation of space.

Leaving a trail of neatly oiled highway through a number of Vermont towns, the Standard Oil Co.'s automatic road oiler arrived in the city yesterday to fulfill a contract for 25,000 square yards of street oil ordered by the city council early in the spring. Sections of highway at the south end of the main highway and at the north end as well as a strip on upper Washington street have been thoroughly cleaned of dust by the street department in the past week and when the oilers reached town yesterday all was in readiness for them. The first strip to be oiled extends along the South Main street extremity to the city limits. North Main street is next in line and after Washington street a few sections of side streets will be traversed by the big motor.

One of the most artistic memorials ever sold in Barre was placed recently by E. A. Carroll & Co. of Philadelphia, who have secured a contract from M. G. Price, a prominent Philadelphian, to erect in Westminster cemetery a colonnade monument to be erected on a circular lot. Carroll & Co. resorted to a unique plan in closing the contract, as a plaster model of the memorial desired by Mr. Price was fashioned for his inspection, and the retailers say that the contract secured by them is a result of the "build while you live" campaign. The colonnade is 13½ feet high and 27 feet long. It is to contain nine fluted Corinthian columns and three bases are to be built in a semi-circle. The underground vault will contain a single opening, which is to lead to four crypts. Light Barre granite is specified in the contract and work on the memorial will be gotten under way at once.

The music pupils of Florence Ryle had a party on Monday afternoon. The following gave musical readings: Bella McDonald, Cora Calderari, Mary McDonald, Patty McHardy and Ina McDonald. Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

A great deal of interest has been shown, during the past few days, in the pictures taken during the parade on May 15. The pictures are being displayed in the show-case of the Cantu studio. Pictures of many of the floats, as well as of the organizations of Barre, are among those displayed.

The picnic of the Old Outlier Corner School association, which was to have been held at Devex park next Saturday, has been postponed indefinitely, owing to the quarantine regulations. Feeling that the picnic would be far from a success with the young people eliminated, the older ones will wait until such time as all can be together.

The Barre Congregational Sunday school had a representation in the parade at the centennial celebration in Greensboro Saturday, when about a dozen workers in that Sunday school marched and bore a banner of white, on which was the word, "Barre," in large letters of evergreen. The party were in Greensboro for the three-day services of the celebration and camped on the shores of Caspian lake, some returning to Barre the first of this week and others remaining for a longer sojourn there.

CALLS DUNCAN SAFE MAN.

Petition Asks for Release of Man Accused of Killing Wife.

Rutland, June 26.—George W. Duncan, who was acquitted of murder in the first degree at the last September term of Rutland county court, has brought a petition of habeas corpus to be heard at the next September term of Rutland county court. Mr. Duncan is being detained at the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury and the petition is brought to secure his release.

The Duncan case was one of the most sensational ever tried in Rutland county court, as the plea advanced by his counsel was as unusual as it was convincing. Mr. Duncan was indicted for first degree murder, following the shooting of his wife, Malinda Duncan, at the home of a relative last August. He was acquitted by the jury, being "not guilty by reason of insanity." He was represented by Attorneys J. C. Jones and E. H. O'Brien of this city.

The petition states that Mr. Duncan is detained and imprisoned by W. L. Wasson, superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury, for the purpose of determining whether Mr. Duncan is safe to be at large and whether or not his discharge would be dangerous to the community.

It shows further that on November 3, the judges of the Rutland county court ordered that Duncan be confined in the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury at the expense of the state until further order from the court or until otherwise discharged by law. He has been confined at the hospital since November 3.

The petition states further that at the present time and for a long time heretofore, Mr. Duncan has been safe to be at large and is not dangerously insane and that detention is therefore unjust and contrary to law.

Attorneys J. C. Jones and E. H. O'Brien represent Duncan and State's Attorney C. V. Poulin will appear for the state.

FIFTH ATTEMPT TO ENLIST

Was Successful But Ben Weeden Had to Pay to Get In.

Brattleboro, June 26.—Victor A. Space and Ben D. Weeden returned last evening from Boston where both had enlisted in the American ambulance corps in the Andover unit. The majority of this unit sailed last Saturday but these young men and several others will sail next Saturday and join the unit in France.

This was Weeden's fifth attempt to enlist in some branch of the service abroad and he finally succeeded by enlisting where he pays his own expenses.

"POPULARITY CONTEST."

Starts Off Well in Barre—Several Stations Established.

The "popularity contest" which the Italian Athletic club announces in connection with the summer festival and exposition of the World of Pleasure Shows next week in Barre, was started off this morning under conditions that augur well for its success. This is what may be rightly termed a quadruple contest in that it combines a total of four contests. To two of the most popular young ladies is offered for first prize a diamond ring and for the second prize a combination gold bracelet watch. Diamond rings will be awarded to two of the prettiest babies in town, a 1917 model racing bicycle to the best liked school boy and a gold sapphire ring to the homeliest man in Barre and vicinity. Harry E. Bonnell, representative of the World of Pleasure Shows and manager of the contests, explains that this does not mean the "homeliest man" in the literal sense, but rather the man who stays at home the most.

Votes are one cent each which adds much to the popularity of the contests. Already voting stations have been established at Scamplin's cafe, Carlton's Jewelry store, Jack's Lunch, Marjorie's Cigar store, Drown's drug store and Diversi's Fruit store. Four additional stations will be established to-morrow.

The jewelry prizes will be on display to-morrow morning at Carlton's and the bicycle across the street at Flanders' bike shop.

A special bulletin is to be issued daily, showing the standing of the contestants. Already the entry list is large with excellent prospects of a steady increase as public interest in the contests grows.—adv.

KILLED IN RAILROAD YARD.

Charles Schaejbe, 55, Was Run Over By Train.

Bellows Falls, June 26.—Charles Schaejbe, 55, of 147 Sherman street, Cambridge, Mass., a brakeman on the Fitchburg division, Boston & Maine railroad, was run over and instantly killed at about 9:20 Sunday night while working in the Fitchburg yard here. It is not known just how the accident occurred but it is believed that he was hit by a car and knocked across a parallel track where he was run over.

The engineer saw the body but was unable to stop his engine quickly enough to avert disaster. Dr. F. M. Densmore of Keene, N. H., medical referee of Cheshire county, was summoned. After an examination to-day he pronounced the death purely accidental.

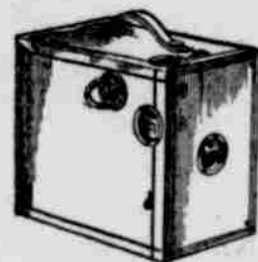

Mr. Schaejbe had worked for the B. & M. for 26 years.
